

Home > College of Business Administration > Faculty > Lewis, Willis

Name: Willis Lewis, Jr.

Title: Professor of Economics

Education: Ph.D. Applied Economics, Clemson University
M.S., Pennsylvania State University
B.S., Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University

Office: 127 Thurmond Building

Phone: 803/323-4623

E-mail: lewisw@winthrop.edu

Web:

Area(s): Research- Regional Economics, Rural Development, Spatial Econometrics; Teaching- Principles of Macro, International Trade, and Managerial Economics

College of Business Administration

Faculty & Staff Profiles

Willis Lewis is an Assistant Professor of Economics at Winthrop University in Rock Hill, South Carolina. He was a faculty member of Lander University before joining Winthrop University. Willis' research interests include regional growth, economic development, welfare reform, issues in higher education, and rural policy. His research has been published in Rural America, Southern Business and Economic Journal, The Journal of Learning in Higher Education, The Journal of Academic Administration in Higher Education, Journal of Business and Economic Perspectives, and a chapter in Rural Dimensions of Welfare Reform.

Last updated by rayj 08/13/2020

803/323-2211

701 Oakland Avenue
Rock Hill, SC 29733
Contact Us

Future Students
Parents & Families
Visitors
Alumni
Faculty & Staff
Current Students

Calendar
Campus Map
Employment
Safety/Emergency
Give Now
Office of Accessibility

A-Z Index
Privacy Policy
Text Version
Web Accessibility
Web Site Feedback